Community Events

Christmas Tree Lighting Event

The 18th Annual Christmas Tree Lighting attracted more than 1200 people. The evening started with music performed by the Citrus Heights Marching Band and holiday greetings by Mayor Mel Turner and City Council Members, followed by dance performances from the O'Sullivan Academy of Irish Dance. Santa and Council flipped the switch on the 43-foot Christmas Tree to light the entire City Hall parking lot.

The event was sponsored by the City of Citrus Heights, Sunrise Mall, Sunrise Marketplace and Republic Services. Additional contributions were made by 7-11 on San Juan Avenue, TLC Catering and Abel's Christmas Trees in Citrus Heights.

City's first DC Fast Charging Station for Electric Vehicles

In December the City issued Building Permits to SMUD for the City's first DC Fast Charging Station for Electric Vehicles. The charging station will be located at Antelope Crossing (in front of Raley's at 7825 Lichen Drive).

The charging station will include two DC Fast chargers (capable of fully charging an electric vehicle in 30 minutes) as well as a Level 2 charging station.

According to SMUD this will be the first universally ADA accessible (all three chargers) charging station in the State. The station is strategically located in Citrus Heights along the I-80 corridor and will be the easternmost publically available fast chargers in SMUD territory. The project is a $341,000 SMUD investment into the community. SMUD is partnering with Weingarten real estate to make the stations available for a reasonable charge.

SMUD aims to have the station available by January 1, 2015. A grand opening and ribbon cutting will be announced as the construction nears completion.

The City of Citrus Heights and the Citrus Heights Police Department in partnership with Citrus Heights Service Clubs, Businesses, Community Members, and Schools proudly assisted 404 Citrus Heights Community Members during our:

6th Annual Holiday Referral Program

We are pleased to announce that our annual holiday program was a wonderful success. 59 families were adopted. We handed out 65 turkeys and the families were able to “shop” for clothing that was donated as well, prior to receiving their gifts.

Our adopted families included 76 adults and 154 children, who received gifts, food boxes and toiletry baskets. Additional food boxes and toiletry baskets were donated to Lichen School to give to their families in need which included 14 adults and 50 children. The families picked up their items Tuesday, December 16th and got to meet Santa at the City’s Community Center.

On Wednesday, December 17th, Santa, a police motor escort, numerous Police Department members, Mayor, Vice Mayor, and numerous city employees and their families; delivered gifts, food boxes and toiletry baskets to three families in the community . We also visited the Sayonara Community Center and handed out Candy Canes and Stuffed Animals to the children in the neighborhood and those who attend the after school program.

Sergeant Schaefer also was able to deliver quilts to seniors in our community thanks to a beautiful donation.

Sergeant Garing and her team were also able to hand out gifts to 110 additional children while on patrol the week of Christmas thanks to the abundant donations from the community.

A Special Thank You to the all of these Families, Groups & Organizations for their Help, Donations and Adoptions:

Tips for Driving in the Rain

The rainy season is right around the corner. The Citrus Heights Police Department wants motorists to be prepared to drive during wet conditions. Please read the following driving tips regarding driving in wet weather.

1. Exercise extreme caution after a long dry spell. During a dry period, engine oil and grease build up on the road over time. When mixed with water from a new rainfall, the road becomes extremely slick. Continued rainfall will eventually wash away the oil, but the first few hours can be the most dangerous.

2. Allow for more travel time. You should plan to drive at a slower pace than normal when the roads are wet. Keep in mind that traffic is likely to be moving slower as well. There's also the possibility that your preplanned route may be flooded or jammed. Whatever the case, rushing equals higher risk.

3. Drive slowly and carefully, especially on turns. Steer and brake with a light touch. When you need to stop or slow, do not brake hard or lock the wheels and risk a skid. If you do find yourself in a skid, remain calm, ease your foot off the gas, and carefully steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

4. Avoid hydroplaning by keeping your tires inflated correctly. Maintain good tire tread. Don't put off replacing worn tires. Slow down when roads are wet, and stay away from puddles. If you find yourself hydroplaning, do not brake hard or turn suddenly. This could throw your car into a skid. Ease your foot off the gas until the car slows. If you need to brake, do it gently.

5. Turn on your headlights, even when there's a light sprinkle. It helps you see the road, and more importantly, it helps other motorists see you. However, don't blast your high beams in the rain or fog — it'll obscure your view further, as the light will reflect back at you off the water droplets in the air.

6. Watch out for pedestrians. An ordinarily observant pedestrian may become distracted by fiddling with an umbrella or a rain slicker.

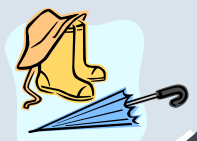

Now that you know how to drive in the rain, take some precautionary measures to ensure that your vehicle is prepared to get you through a downpour.

1. Stay on top of your car's condition. Its brakes, tire pressures, tire tread depth and defroster operation should be checked regularly so that you'll be ready to deal with heavy rain when the time comes.

2. Make sure that your wipers are in good condition and functioning properly. If the blades are brittle or damaged, replace them before you're caught in a downpour. Some wipers are definitely better than others, so ask your retailer for recommendations.

Please Travel Safely

PROPOSED DIGNITY HEALTH MEDICAL OFFICE BUILDING AND CITY HALL PROJECT

On December 12th, the Draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) on the City Hall / Medical Office Building project was released for public review. The proposal consists of two components – a new City Hall building and a new Medical Office building. The Medical Office Building would be located at the corner of Greenback Lane and Fountain Square Drive, which is the location of the City's existing City Hall complex. The new City Hall would move slightly to the north on Fountain Square Drive (next to the Post Office). Details about the proposed project are contained within the Draft EIR and are also available on the City's website.

This Draft EIR has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). Release of the Draft EIR commences a 45-day public review period. Members of the community are invited to review the Draft EIR and submit comments on the adequacy of the EIR during the 45-day review period. The Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on January 14th, 2015, during which oral comments on the Draft EIR can be provided. The focus of the January 14th meeting is the Draft EIR, specifically receiving comments from the public on the Draft EIR. There will not be any discussion about the overall project details, including any financial details, at this meeting. The January 14th meeting is focused solely on the environmental aspects of the project. Written comments can be submitted through January 26th.

The Draft EIR can be viewed on the City's website, www.citrusheights.net/327/Environmental-Documents. It can also be viewed in the lobby of City Hall and at the Sylvan Library during normal business hours. Copies of the Draft EIR will be available on CD for free to interested residents. Hard copies of the Draft EIR will also be available for purchase for $38. Following the public review period of the Draft EIR, all of the comments received on the Draft EIR will be reviewed. A Final EIR will be prepared, which will address comments that were submitted on the Draft EIR.

The Planning Commission and City Council will likely consider whether to approve the project or not in March 2015. Part of their deliberations will include the EIR. Their deliberations will also include other requested entitlements and potential financial agreements.

Holiday Hazards & Weather Warnings

Whether you are hosting holiday parties, traveling or spending a quiet holiday with family, the holiday season can be stressful for you and your pets. A quick list of things to remember this winter!

- If it's too cold for you, it's too cold for your pet! Pets require extra food and water during cold spells to stay warm & hydrated. If your pet must stay outside please provide shelter from the wet and cold. A dog house raised off the ground with warm bedding or straw is usually sufficient. Position door openings away from the wind to prevent heat loss, and if the temperatures will dip below freezing it's best to bring your pet inside.
- Candles, fireplaces & space heaters pose safety threats to pets. Many pets enjoy a cozy space near the hearth, but sparks and cinders can burn paws and singe fur, Overheating is also a concern for younger and older pets. Do not leave pets unattended near flames or electrical cords.
- Holiday Trees and Plants can be hazardous. Certain plants like mistletoe, poinsettias and lilies are poisonous to pets. Christmas trees (fresh or artificial) can be a tipping hazard and should be secured to a ceiling or wall. The pine tree needles (or artificial replicas) can be a source of digestive disruption and a possible trip to the vet! Prevent your pet from drinking the tree water! Preservatives used to keep the tree fresh, flocking, insecticides and flame retardant can make pets sick.
- Ornaments and Decorations can be dangerous! Glass ornaments, the Elf on the Shelf, holiday lights, tinsel, candy canes, popcorn and package decorations can become choking hazards, obstructions in the digestive tract or cause electrocution or injury to the animal's mouth.
- Festive Foods can foil the festivities! Chocolate, certain fruits & nuts, fatty foods, bones (poultry, prime rib, etc.), uncooked dough, alcohol, and their packaging can irritate stomachs, tax nervous systems, cause vomiting, diarrhea and can even cause organ failure or death! Provide your pet with tasty, pet friendly alternatives such as healthy rawhides or catnip!
- A puppy or kitten under the tree has a romantic, nostalgic feel... holiday commercials are full of charming pets with big red bows under a tree, but pet ownership is a family decision and shouldn't be forced upon the family or the pet. Pets that are not wanted or welcome often unnecessarily end up in animal shelters. Gift the animal lovers with pet toys, books on animal care or donations in their name to local animal shelters or pet rescues!
